

PJM Monitoring and Consulting Services

GT Power covers PJM like nobody else. Not only do we offer you the ability to stay on top of PJM meetings and easily track pressing issues, but we also offer you insights and analysis that will help get the answers you want and the information you need. With a combined century of experience with PJM issues, GT Power Group team members are ready to help you understand and follow the biggest RTO in the country.

Our experts understand how to navigate the most challenging of PJM issues and provide our clients with informed strategies that are designed for success. We work closely with clients to understand their goals and seek to remove obstacles that can stand in their way. PJM rules are nuanced and constantly changing and we are in the weeds and at the table every step of the way.

Moreover, the information communicated in PJM meetings can move markets in a minute - we provide information as events unfold in real time. PJM information can be overwhelming and difficult to manage - we will organize the issues for you and present the information you need to know in an easy to use format. Our team helps you understand not just what is happening, but why it is important to your company.

We are there with trained ears listening for the information you need to know, so you do not need to be.

Among other things, GT Power Group clients enjoy:

GTPowerSource.Com

A one of a kind online tool that allows you to follow PJM meetings as they happen, communicate with GT Power team members at PJM meetings and access a permanent data base of meeting summaries from all PJM meetings since 2012. Check it out: www.gtpowersource.com

PJM Today

A daily compilation of the most relevant headlines from the PJM region and previews of the day's PJM meeting(s).

GTPS Weekly Wrap

A weekly summary of the PJM stakeholder meetings from that week, a summary of regulatory highlights from the week, and a preview of the following week's meetings.

MRC and MC Annotated Agenda

Prior to every MRC and MC meeting, an agenda complete with our notes on each voting item will be distributed to guide you through the critical issues up for final approval in the PJM stakeholder process.

PJM Consulting Services

In addition to the suite of written publications above, GT Power offers client-specific consulting services tailored to meet your needs. Our team members can answer (or get the answer to) company-related questions, arrange meetings with appropriate PJM executives, offer thoughts on what proposed rule changes could mean to specific assets or the market, develop advocacy strategies to pursue company specific goals and otherwise do what it takes to meet your PJM needs.

GT Power Team

Thomas W. Hyzinski

Thomas W. Hyzinski has over 30 years of experience in the electric utility industry. His career spans both the regulated and deregulated periods of the industry, and includes experience in planning engineering, electricity marketing and trading, and representing company interests at RTOs, with industry groups, and before both Federal and State agencies. Prior to joining the GT Power Team, Mr. Hyzinski was Director of Market and Regulatory Policy for Talen Energy where he led a group that advocated for and protected Talen's business interests. He has been an active participant in the PJM stakeholder process since its inception in 1997. Prior to his advocacy role, Mr. Hyzinski was an electricity trader for PPL EnergyPlus, with responsibility for managing their Day Ahead market position which included both generation resources and load obligation. Prior to trading, Mr. Hyzinski was an engineer in PPL's System Planning department where his responsibilities included production cost studies, distribution planning and transmission planning, including participation in transmission and reliability studies at PJM prior to deregulation. Mr. Hyzinski is a licensed Professional Engineer in Pennsylvania. He graduated from Wilkes University with a BS in Electrical Engineering, and from DeSales University with an MBA.

Jeffrey W. Whitehead

Jeffrey W. Whitehead is the founder and President of JW Energy Solutions, LLC. Mr. Whitehead has over 15 years of industry experience in many facets of wholesale and retail competitive electric markets and operations. Mr. Whitehead's prior experience includes responsibility for government and regulatory affairs at Direct Energy - the largest residential and second largest commercial and industrial retail electric supplier in North America. He also worked for Customized Energy Solutions where he had multiple roles, including: consulting on RTO and ISO regulatory affairs, optimizing congestion hedge positions on behalf of clients, leading market operations for several electric generators, and directing operations for the company's mid-office (utility and RTO operations) retail electric supplier outsourcing service. Prior to Customized Energy Solutions, Mr. Whitehead worked at PJM Interconnection in the operations and compliance groups. He has a BA in Information Systems from Susquehanna University and an MBA from Penn State.

Glen R. Thomas
